Reduction of Income Tax by One Per Cent Proposed by the Administration.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

IF CONGRESS is agreeable, and it almost certainly will be, our income taxes for this year will be reduced by about $100,000,000. This is the plan of the administration, the announcement of which was made in advance of the President's budget message to congress in the hope that it would serve to ameliorate the stock market situation.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Undersecretary Ogden Mills and Roy Young, governor of the federal reserve board, conferred with Mr. Hoover, and Mr. Mellon then issued a statement, which said in part:

"While the final detailed estimates of revenues and expenditures for the fiscal year 1930 and 1931 have not been completed, the secretary of the treasury considers the estimates have reached the point where tax reduction should be recommended to the congress at the coming session.

"The indications are that business profits, dividends, interest, and wages have risen sufficiently to warrant a reduction of the normal tax on the income of individuals and corporations from 24 to 23 percent.

"The reduction of the normal tax on the income of individuals and corporations from 24 to 23 percent will be a general revision of the revenue law.

"The proposal has been discussed with the Republican and Democratic leaders of both houses of congress, who have tentatively approved the proposed recommendation.

"It was believed in Washington that enactment of the necessary legislation would come only in the regular session of congress, which opens on December 2.

COMMENT on the stock market situation, which is superfluous, for every one in the country has been reading the financial columns with anxiety if not with dismay. Day after day prices continued their downward slide, and the bottom of the market was being reached.

But the market has been reaching a bottom, and it is now beginning to rise. The market has been reaching a bottom, and it is now beginning to rise.

STOPPED CHILD'S COUGH

Adamson's Balsam, that wonderfully reliable cough medicine stopped this boy's coughing spells with two doses.

As quick as it touches the inflamed throat it relieves soreness. Quickly relaxes throat muscles and expels phlegm. Being free from irritation and sticky infected phlegm—coughing stops. Other ingredients attack the germs at seat of trouble and in a day or two all danger is gone.

Because Adamson's Balsam works so quickly and surely—it's the favorite all over New England. Contains no dangerous drugs, or chloroform. Try it for colds, sore throat, bronchitis or plain cough. 50c and $1. At all druggists.

STATE OF MAINE Proclamation by the Governor Thanksgiving Day, 1929

By such decree of our forefathers there was established the custom of setting aside one day in the year to express thanks for our many material blessings. We have but to pause and reflect for a brief interval to realize the vast gifts granted us, both as a Nation and as a State. The prosperity of our land and the general contentment of our people carries out cause for thankfulness.

We are a Nation at peace with the world, and we hope to prove as a Nation at peace for the continuing peace of the world.

It is therefore, well that we should be moved by this spirit of thankfulness, that we may come closer to a realization of those benefits and joys which have come to us, and I do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 21, 1929, Thanksgiving Day in the State of Maine.

Let us open this day, as we halt in our reverent labors, be the first of the happiness we hold, the blessings we have received and endeavor to give our sincere thanks for the many gifts assigned us.

Given at the Office of the Governor at Augusta, and sealed with the Great Seal of the State of Maine, this fourth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and fifty-eighth.

WM. TATUM GARDNER, Governor of Maine.

By the Honorable Secretary of State

JOSEPH E. SMITH, Secretary of State

The great spirit of love to the world has been found at the Pledge of Adherence, it has been announced this year.

CHRISTMAS SEALS TO BE ON SALE AFTER THANKSGIVING

In many sections of the State Christmas seals are now being sold by the post office. These seals are NOT the Tuberculosis Christmas Health Seal, but are unauthorized seals with some commercial house is offering for sale. Many people are purchasing them, thinking that by doing so they are assisting in the great fight against Tuberculosis. Therefore, an explanation at this time may not be amiss.

The Town Doctor...

(The Doctor of Towns)

SAYS

MOST PEOPLE ARE LIKE DUCKS.

"You read about 'self-made' men. There is no such thing. No man ever made himself. Other people did it. The so-called 'self-made' man was just smart enough to know that every time he did something for others, others would do more for him—and he did it."

You want to make money. You wouldn't be doing what you are doing if you didn't. Believe it or not, the first remains you can not make money unless your neighbor does. Therefore, what you do to help him, helps you; and what he does to help you, helps him.

Your neighbor isn't just the man next door, but the man next door to him, and the man next door to everybody else in Bethel. In other words, your neighbors are the people who make up your community.

If your neighbors didn't do for you, where would you be? You can't do a thing by yourself. You can't eat, sleep, work or play without others entering into it in some way. Sounds ridiculous, doesn't it—but try getting along by yourself and see how far you get.

Socially, the fellow who does not hold up his end is a poor sport, a short horse, a tight-wad and a moocher. You say, "He has fishhooks in his pockets," which is anything but complimentary, and something that you would not want said about you. In fact, you detest such people.

There really isn't a great difference between things so-called things civic, except that there are more short horses entered in the latter event. Many of you who are good sports socially are moochers civically—not always intentionally so, but so, nevertheless.

Most of you are like ducks. Ducks are used to water—in fact, can't live without it. While they have it, they don't worry because of the lack of it; but if their pond dries up, they quack their heads off.

Others are working to keep the water in your pond—to insure continual existence, growth and prosperity of your town that you and your neighbors may live, work, play and make money. Recognize it; appreciate it. If in the past you have unwittingly been a civic tight-wad, there is no time like the present to come out of it.

This Town Doctor Article is published by the Citizen in cooperation with the Bethel Lions Club.

The legitimate Christmas Health seal will not be placed on sale in any part of Maine until immediately after Thanksgiving. The American Red Cross and the National Tuberculosis Association have signed a very definite agreement or contract that the time from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving shall be devoted to the Red Cross Membership Drive, while the Christmas Health Seal and Health Bond sale is to be started the day after Thanksgiving. So, in accordance with that mutual agreement, no Health Seal will be on sale in this State before November 20.

The Maine Public Health Association whose central office is in Augusta, is the authorized agent for the Health Seal. Its affiliated organizations are permitted by contract to retain 90% of the funds derived from the sale in their respective territories. All raising services supervised by the Maine Public Health Association are also allowed to retain 90% of their funds. The remainder of the money derived from the sale of seals and bonds in Maine is used for a state-wide tuberculosis program, which includes clinics with use of X-ray, follow up work, preparing patients for sanatorium or home treatment, etc. With the exception of 5% of the total seal sale which is sent to the National Tuberculosis Association, the returns from the sale are used in Maine to stamp out tuberculosis.

The cut above is that of the 1929 Christmas Health Seal, which means much in the fight against that dread disease, Tuberculosis. For more than 20 years the Christmas seal with the double-barred red cross has been the means by which money has been raised to reduce the death rate from Tuberculosis. Dr. Kendall, State Commissioner of Health, recently issued the statement: "Since 1905 the mortality from tuberculosis in Maine has been reduced from over 1500 annually to less than 500."

All thinking, progressive citizens of Maine are anxious of decreasing the death rate still further. The purchase of the legitimate, genuine, Christmas Health Seal representing the above cut, will be made possible immediately after Thanksgiving. Until then, please remember this explanation, and do not expect some money in the commercial seal which help no one except the commercial house that issues them.

SONGO POND

Rev. H. P. Wentworth and Miss Evelyn M. Wentworth called on Mrs. Chase yesterday.

Miss Dorothy Burgess was a week end guest of her sister, Mrs. Helen Swan, in Bethel.

William Gorman was at his farm in Songo Pond Sunday. Two men from Bethel and Albert Kimball accompanied him.

James Wheeler called at A. B. Kimball's Saturday.

H. B. Denahan built a new fence around the York cemetery last week.

Mrs. J. P. Bohler from Norway was a business caller in this vicinity recently.

Possible to Float for Days in This Garment

A suit of clothes in which it would be a positive pleasure to be shipwrecked has been perfected. Except for the face the costume covers the entire body like an overall. Fitted to the head is a hood like that of the conventional monk's gown, but larger and thicker.

In the material of this hood and also between the outer layer and the lining of the rest of the costume spaces are provided which can be inflated with air or stuffed with light material like spongy paper fiber.

The outer layer of the garment is waterproofed and arrangements are provided to keep water from seeping inside the suit at the wrists and neck.

Thus the wearer is encased completely in a floating garment which serves both as life preserver and as protection for many hours against the cold.

The large, thick hood floats highest in the water, thus making it impossible for the wearer to "capsize" and find his head downward, as has happened with some previous life saving garments.

If the wearer makes no effort at all he will float automatically on his back, as though lying in bed, and almost as warmly.

It is claimed, however, that one advantage of the new garment is that inactivity is not necessary. The wearer can paddle himself about.

"Friendship" Carried to Extremes in This Case

Billy Muldoon—before he gained fame as a champion wrestler and trainer of John L. Sullivan for his epic fight with Jake Kilrain—was once a New York city policeman. And thereby hangs this tale, told by Edward Van Every in his book about "The Solid Man of Sport."

Muldoon was patrolling his beat one day when several excited citizens reported to him that murder was being done in a nearby house.

Hurrying to the scene Muldoon heard groans emanating from a room, the door of which was locked. Forcing an entrance he found on the floor in a welter of blood, a young negro, to all appearances fatally wounded. Muldoon bent down and asked:

"Can you tell me who did this?"

"Yes, sah," came the faint answer. "A friend of mine."—Kansas City Star.

SOUTH ALBANY

Fredric Scribner was home from Norway High School over the week end. R. E. Hill was in Norway last Friday on business.

Abel Andrews remains about the same.

Rev. A. C. Townsend preached a very interesting sermon at the Albany Church Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Roy Wardwell attended the all day meeting of the W. R. C. at North Waterford last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Waterhouse called at W. B. Cummings' Sunday afternoon.

Theodore Brown is spending some time at Ingalls McAllister's.

Walter Canwell and family were in Welchville on Sunday.

Ernest Grover, Bert Moulton and Fred Black have been on a hunting trip up to the Rangeley Lakes.

There will be a "Poverty Ball" at Grange Hall, North Waterford, Saturday evening, Nov. 23. A chicken will be given away. Come one and all for a good time. Refreshments of hot dogs and cold drinks will be on sale.

G. M. Fullerton came up Monday to go hunting.

Perkins Valley, Woodstock

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Keough and children of Auburn, Mrs. Nettie Rich and son Herbert of Norway were callers at Abner Benson's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bryant of Auburn are visiting their daughter, Margaret Peabody, for a few days.

Mrs. James Kennerson and Mrs. Everett Wilson visited with Mrs. Nelson Perham Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Dumas and family of New Gloucester were callers at James Kimball's Sunday.

Word has been received from Mr. Mrs. Elmer Waterhouse, who left for California several weeks ago, they have arrived safely after a long trip across the continent. Mr. Waterhouse, who accompanied them, stopped in Texas for a while, but has returned home in the spring.

Mrs. Jennie Libby has been here quite a serious time with bronchitis. Abner Benson lost a valuable Sunday. It apparently had been so. They took him to a veterinarian but nothing could be done to help him.

Graphic Outlines of History

CHICAGO IN 1673

The site of Chicago was first settled by Marquette and Joliet, French missionaries and explorers, in 1673. Permanent settlement was retarded by Indian hostilities. Because of the ideal location on the Lakes, however, it soon became a great trading center, and gradually grew into the great city it is to-day.

The thoughtfulness and beauty of our service is unmarred by any forgotten detail.

The Oyster Expert

By JANE OSBORN

(Copyright.)

"IF YOU pass up Jim Crane—well, you needn't come to me for sympathy if you never get as good a chance again. That's all." Bruce Bordon spoke with the full authority of twenty-two years to his twenty-year-old sister, Jane. They were sitting together alone in the Borden living room. Bruce had noticed for the first time that Jane was not wearing her engagement ring.

Bruce demanded explanations with brotherly exactitude, and Jane had in a manner that Bruce considered much too flip, announced that she had broken with Jim and was glad she had done so.

"Sis, you're crazy," Bruce announced. "You'd be damned lucky to marry a man like Jim Crane. I guess you don't realize what his standing is. Why, he's barely thirty, and it's generally acknowledged that he knows more about oysters than any man in this country. I guess if you knew how the fellows admire him at college you'd be sorry for what you've done."

"It's a crazy old professor, and as absent-minded as the worst of them," snapped Jane. "That's the trouble. We'd only been engaged two months, and three times in that space Jim forgot to call for me when he had promised to."

"Signs of genius, sis; signs of genius," commented Bruce; but Jane was not to be persuaded.

So matters stood between Prof. James Crane and his erstwhile fiancée, Jane Bordon. Meanwhile, the professor perceptibly lost weight and became more absent-minded than ever. After two weeks of the severed engagement she had reached the point where she admitted to herself that she longed for the sight of Jim Crane.

It happened that week that there was the "Ocean Front Exhibit." Some interested projector of the affair had given a number of admission tickets to the secretary of Bruce's fraternity. Bruce gave one to Jane and one to Jim. Jane went alone—but Jim took his five-year-old niece, Lucille.

A bus ride, thrilling for Lucille, brought them to the door of the exhibition hall, and before many minutes had passed Lucille's eyes were agog with admiration of the gay lights and gaily decorated booths. What took her eye from the first was a copper booth set up to advertise a newly opened stretch of seashore. The booth consisted of a space twenty feet square filled with white sand from the beach. At the back was a canvas drop painted to resemble the far horizon of ocean and sky.

Professor James Crane spied not very far off a booth set up by the State Fisheries. There was a special display showing work in oyster culture.

"Suppose you stay here a few minutes, Lucille," he suggested, "and I'll go over to that booth and pretty soon I'll come back."

Meanwhile Jane Bordon had arrived. She looked about but saw nothing that especially interested her. She approached the Orchard Bench exhibit and spied Lucille. In a second she had crowded down beside her and was asking her a dozen questions.

"Uncle Jim's gone to look at something and left me here," said Lucille. "It's a perfect shame," exclaimed Jane. "He's probably forgotten all about you. You come with me. I'll take you home." And under her breath she added, "I'll teach Jim a lesson."

Going home to the Crane house, Jane had misgivings. She would, of course, be giving James Crane a scare, and she had no real right to walk off with his niece. Still she would be teaching him a lesson, and the whole thing gave her an excuse to go to the Crane house.

She found no one in but the cook, so she decided to spend the remainder of the afternoon on the grounds of the Crane place, playing with Lucille. But she had only played about fifteen minutes when she saw the long shadow of Jim Crane speeding toward her on the grass.

"I suppose you are perfectly furious with me," she defended, "but really—" "Furious? Why should I be furious?" queried the professor.

"For taking Lucille away. It must have given you a dreadful fright but really you ought to be ashamed for leaving the child there all alone."

"I knew where she had gone," said Jim, beaming. "I had no reason for alarm. I asked the young woman in charge of the booth where the child had gone and she said with a lady whom Lucille seemed to know—a very pretty lady."

"How could you tell from that?" asked Jane, blushing.

"Because you're the only very pretty lady that Lucille and I know," said the absent-minded professor, looking intently into Jane's face. Her eyes fell.

Then he took her two hands in his and he looked at Jane and Jane looked at him, and it was perfectly obvious to both that their engagement was renewed.

Look With Disfavor on Abnormality of Genius

The aberrations of genius have not invariably confined themselves to mere feats of genial absent-mindedness. The lives of Bunyan, Swift, Byron, Beethoven and even Thomas Carlyle are examples of the tragic forms which the abnormality of genius will sometimes assume. Genius, especially musical, poetic and literary genius, has often been allied with a pathological condition of the mind which borders upon insanity. And the fact that the eccentricity of genius did not more frequently cross the border line must be attributed to the social conditions under which those men of genius lived; for society in the past was more tolerant of eccentricity than it is today.

And here, perhaps, is the real cause of that lack of genius which we are so often told is characteristic of the present age. It is possible that the Twentieth century, with its tendency to standardize not only means of production but even ways of thought, will not tolerate that independence or eccentricity of mind which has so often been the accompaniment of creative genius. If John Bunyan, for example, had been living today, he would have been cured of his melancholy or else incarcerated in an asylum; in neither case, it is safe to say, would he have produced the "Pilgrim's Progress."

Difference in the Sexes at Periods of Growth

"There is a marked difference between boys and girls in the way they grow, particularly during adolescence."

This is the opinion of a well-known woman authority on child welfare, who has observed about 3,000 children over a period of eleven years and has followed about 700 of them to adult growth.

"Growth in the girl practically ceases between fifteen and sixteen, and in many cases earlier," she said. "But in the boy this is prolonged until eighteen and often later. The girl, having to get her growth over in a much shorter period and doing it in rather a jerky way, tends to go through a phase lasting from twelve to eighteen months when she is disinclined for any physical or mental exercise, and welcomes group control and routine."

"The boy, on the other hand, tends to have a marked freeing of energy and wants to undertake some particular individual task outside routine and tends to resent group control."

Some Call It a Depot Now

Uncle Hiram was coming to visit his city nephew and the nephew was looking forward to the visit with some uncertainty. He had warned Uncle Hiram that he had changed since the days on the farm. But he didn't realize just how tremendously he had improved till he read Uncle Hiram's telegram.

"Meet me at the Grand Central depot at 2:15."

"The Grand Central depot," he laughed. But the laugh had a guilty sound.

If hadn't been so many years, he remembered since he had called a station a depot, and made fun of the Up boys, the town snobs, who were very superior and called it the "terminal."

Let Fortune Escape
How a fortune was missed as the result of a Gold coast prospector's ignorance of geology was revealed by Sir Albert Kitson at a meeting of the British association.

The prospector in search of gold dug a hole and unearthed manganese ore. Thinking it was iron ore, he took no notice of it.

A geologist found the old hole and realized the value of the ore. The spot has since proved to be one of the largest and richest deposits of manganese ore in the world.

Hard to Do
It was all on account of the labels Doctor Gass had to send a box of pills to a patient, while there were half a dozen live chickens to be delivered to one of his friends.

The labels got mixed and the messenger delivered the pills to the doctor's friend.

So far not much harm had been done, but the patient was pained on receiving a hamper of live fowls and an envelope containing the following instructions: "Two of these to be swallowed every half hour in water."

Gregorian Calendar

The term "calendar month" is applied either to the months as divided in the Gregorian calendar—such as January, February and March—or to the period between the date of one month and the corresponding date in the succeeding month; as, from March 15 to April 15. When the succeeding month does not have a corresponding date the last date of that month is taken; as, from January 30 to February 29.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Indians Are Born Artists

Art is racial to the Indian, not local. When the Amerind works in materials that afford him scope for self-expression, such as blanket weaving or basket making or pottery, his product equals any folk product in the world and excels much that we import. ## SOUTH WATERFORD

Charles Packard, who had his little finger amputated last week, is gaining slowly.

Arthur Kingman is able to walk out some, and Carl Heath is getting about on crutches.

News has reached the village of the death of Albert Raymond of New York. Mr. Raymond was a cousin of Miss Henrietta Moore and has visited at Stanwood Hill several summers in the past.

Mrs. Charles, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Riggs, went home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Holt took Mrs. Charles and Mrs. Riggs to Bethel Nov. 10 to spend the day with Mrs. Millie Clark. The Holts went on to Andover to visit his brother.

Those attending the double funeral of Mrs. Albion Morgan and Mrs. Beattie Babson at Bethel Nov. 10 were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Goodwin and son Clinton and Mrs. Ida E. Riggs.

Nancy Hamlin has been quite ill with a bad cold.

The Club met at Mrs. Fannie Green's on Thursday. The afternoon was spent in helping Mary Gardner with her fall sewing.

W. J. Greene has been ill this past week but is better.

Ethel M. Dana returned to Portland recently.

Bertha Kimball, spent the Armistice holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kimball. Mr. and Mrs. Kimball moved into Brown's Camps on Five Kears for the winter on Sunday. Mr. Brown's truck came for their necessary goods. Mr. Kimball is driving horses for Mr. Brown.

Leon York, Clinton Goodwin and Harry Haynes are trapping for a time. Paul Sanborn shot a four-point buck in Patterson Swamp on Blackguard, Thursday.

Thursday evening the Methodist society held its annual meeting at the home of Mrs. A. A. Monroe. They voted to accept the Uniform Covenant of the Oxford County United Parish.

On Sunday a service of consecration of Sunday School officers and teachers was carried out. The services were special and were conducted by Mr. Townsend. Mrs. Helen Morse's class of high school boys and girls took charge of the Sunday School opening exercises in a very impressive manner.

Over 40 Bear Mountain Grange members responded to an invitation to visit Lakeside Grange in Harrison on Saturday night. A fine time was reported.

Arline Frank, who has been working for Flora Abbott, left on Saturday. She is going to Connecticut to work.

Merton Kimball has been sick this past week.

Why do GOODYEAR tires far outsell any other tires

... if any other tires are "better" or even as good

If you are told that some other tire "has a better tread than the Goodyear."

Stop and think, if this is actually true, why millions more people buy Goodyear Tires.

If you are told that some other tire "has a better carcass than the Goodyear."

Before you accept such a statement, stop and think why millions more people buy Goodyear Tires.

There is nothing in the world which compels car owners to choose Goodyear Tires.

If any other tire offered any advantages over a Goodyear, would not the public be buying that other make in largest numbers?

If any other tire equaled a Goodyear, would it not be as popular as Goodyear?

Instead, you find Goodyear producing MILLIONS MORE TIRES than any other company—outdistancing all competition by greatly increasing lengths each year. Stop and think WHY.

Most car owners have had years of experience with tires. They compare their experiences with those of their friends. Tire buyers are wise, very wise, today. Enthusiastic "talk," strong "claims," advertising that promises everything—your experienced car owner is little impressed by such salesmanship.

The one thing, however, which continues to sell him is this fact, which checks with his personal experience and that of his friends: MILLIONS MORE PEOPLE RIDE ON GOODYEAR TIRES because billions of miles of motoring over roads everywhere continually prove Goodyear Tires to be the best.

Best—not by any small margin—but best by so marked a degree in life, traction, mileage and freedom from trouble that it means a great many dollars saved each year to always buy Goodyears!
